The Flint Jewish Federation is excited to announce the 12th Humanity in Harmony Music Festival-Daniel Pearl World Music Days!

The 13th Humanity in Harmony Music Festival's signature concert is at 7:pm Saturday, October 18, 2025 at FIM Dort Music Center, MacArthur Recital Hall. It features four acts with an eclectic mix of styles and culture.

For the thirteenth year the Humanity in Harmony Concert will open with the Dort Honors String Quartet, four very talented high school musicians from the Flint School of the Performing Arts performing a classical piece.

Stephanie Monear many say, is the voice of Flint. Jazz, big band, torch songs, the voice is eclectic. She also passes on her knowledge as a voice instructor. She will be accompanied by well known jazz pianist Cliff Monear.

The Eon Zero Band brings a new sound to Humanity in Harmony. Hailing from Ann Arbor, Eon was inspired by Hip Hop and rap because of the raw sound, the honesty, and the introspective stories. He takes them to make a sound all his own. His cadence and decoration are turning to pop and almost folk sounds.

New York based Sheldon Low brings worldwide style to our stage. Sheldon Low is one of the most highly sought after artists, songwriters, and educators, in contemporary Jewish music today. He tours all over the world, often with his wife Hadar.

Reporters put their lives on the line bringing us news from dangerous places all over the world. We remember Daniel Pearl a journalist; for the Wall Street Journal who was murdered in Pakistan in 2002 while reporting on the unrest in that part of the world. Daniel Pearl was not only a well-respected reporter; he was also an accomplished violinist!

The Pearl family wanted their son to be remembered for what he loved, not how he died, that is why they created Daniel Pearl World Music Days. Humanity in Harmony is the only Daniel Pearl World Music Days event in Michigan.

The Humanity in Harmony Music festival is set for Saturday October 18 at 7 p.m. Tickets are $10. To register for the concert or for more information contact the Flint Jewish Federation (810) 767-5922 or email ashleymusser@flintfed.org.

The Humanity in Harmony Music Festival is sponsored by a generous grant from the Nartel Family Foundation, Mott Community College, the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs and the Flint Jewish Federation.
